

A photograph of a wedding table setting. The table is covered with a white, patterned tablecloth. In the center, there are several large, round bouquets of white flowers, including roses and hydrangeas, arranged in clear glass vases. A tall, lit white candle in a clear glass holder stands prominently. The table is set with white plates, silverware, and various glassware, including water glasses and champagne flutes. The background shows more of the table and chairs, suggesting a formal dining room or ballroom setting.
